Narrating the 59th Year of St. Joseph's College

Volume 13

Collegeville, Indiana, Wednesday, September 21, 1949

Number 1

59th Scholastic Year Begins

Drive Is Launched

Bishop Noll, of Ft. Wayne, and John W. Lynch, chairman of the National Press Commission, NFCCS, map out plans for campaign against indecent literature. Father James Conroy, of "Our Sunday Visitor," looks on.

Adopt Five-point Code In Fight on Filth

Students in 175 Catholic colleges and universities will carry the fight against indecent literature from their college campuses to 200,000 magazine racks located in railroad and subway stations, drug, cigar and department stores and newsstands throughout the country.

This announcement was made recently by the National Press Commission of the National Federation of Catholic College Students, with headquarters here on the campus. The National Press Commission and the National Organization for Decent Literature (NODL) are joining forces in this all-out campaign. It was the National Press Commission that conducted the Radio Acceptance Poll (RAP) which brought nation-wide attention to the need of good taste in radio comedy, and demanded that radio networks clean up unacceptable programs. With more than 20,000 college students participating, the RAP was called one of the finest polls ever conducted.

Bishop Noll, Founder

His Excellency, the Most Rev. John F. Noll, Bishop of Ft. Wayne, founder and chairman of the National Organization for Decent Literature has built up an extensive organization in all dioceses of the country, and has induced publishers and dealers alike to improve the literature which they present to the American public.

Recently Bishop Noll invited the National Press Commission, in view of its work in the student community, to join forces with the NODL and launch a two-pronged attack on the indecent literature still on the newsstands. The 175 colleges and universities affiliated with the NFCCS will work under the chairmanship of John W. Lynch, St. Joe senior, and chairman of the NPC. Decent Literature Committees will be formed in each school; then, armed with the listings of the banned periodicals, supplied by the Bishops' Board, students will carry the fight from the college campus to the newsstands in their own community.

Five-point Code

Periodicals on the banned list offend against one or more of a five-point Code adopted by the NODL and the National Press Commission: glorify crime or the criminal; are predominantly "sexy;" feature illicit love; carry illustrations indecent or suggestive; carry disreputable advertising.

Listings are not permanent. Additional periodicals will be added as they are found to offend against the Code, and periodicals once listed will be removed as soon as they conform.

Youth Killed In Car Crash

At 5:15 a.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 13, Mr. Kenneth M. Lakin, a resident of Jordan township, lost control of the car he was driving on Highway 53, near the entrance to St. Joseph's. The car apparently hit a slick portion of the surface of the road, following a light rain, and slid off to the side, turning over at least twice. Lakin was thrown from the car as it turned over, and was found dead beneath the machine, which was upright on its wheels.

At this same point on the highway, five years ago, the Rev. Paul Speckbaugh was struck and instantly killed by a speeding car as he was walking toward Rensselaer. Father Speckbaugh was chairman of the Department of English, moderator of the drama societies on the campus, faculty advisor of Measure, and one of the most popular priests at St. Joseph's.

Alumni Reunion Held in July; Jubilarians Feted

The annual reunion of the members of St. Joseph's Alumni Association was held on July 9, 10 and 11, and found many of the "old boys" returning to the campus to renew old friendships and to recall the days when they were youngsters here.

Two members of the Class of 1899 were present; the Rev. Ildephonse Rapp, English professor here, and Mr. Bernard Recker of Ottawa, Ohio. Thirteen silver jubilarians, graduates of the Class of 1925, were feted along with the golden jubilarians at the Alumni Dinner held in the cafeteria at six o'clock, Sunday evening.

Officers Chosen

The annual meeting and election of officers followed the dinner. Balloting resulted in the election of Mr. Thomas G. Medland, Loganport architect, and a member of the Class of 1925, as president of the Association. Mr. Clarence Sieben and Mr. Lincoln Piotrowski, both of Chicago, were chosen vice presidents. Twelve alumni, hailing from various sections of the country, were elected to the Board of Directors.

The 1949 reunion came to an end with a contest of skill and endurance on the links of the Curtis Creek Country Club. Father Norman Heckman, local Chemistry Instructor, won the tournament, hitting his golf ball all the way around the course with the least number of tries—a scorching 73. Fathers M. Dreiling and Kenkel tied for second place, each with a close 74.

Visiting Professors Here for Summer

Registration for the summer session at St. Joseph's took place on June 25, and classes began for the 66 registrants the following day. Among those in attendance were Sisters of St. Joseph, Sisters of Notre Dame, Sisters of the Precious Blood, and several lay women of Rensselaer and neighboring towns.

Visiting professors here for the summer classes were the Rev. Henry Lucks and the Rev. Paul Knapke, both professors at St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, Ohio, Mr. Edward Simmons, of Boston, Mass., Sister M. Elizabeth, S.N.D., of Chicago, and Sister M. Hermina, C.P.P.S., of Cleveland.

The six-weeks session ended with final examinations on Aug. 6.

CONDOLENCE

Sincere sympathy to Father Pax on the death of his mother, and to Father Heckman on the death of his sister.

Faculty and Students Attend Inaugural Mass Yesterday

Yesterday morning in the college chapel, the Very Rev. Alfred J. Zanolar, president of St. Joseph's, was celebrant of a Solemn High Mass, officially opening the 59th scholastic year at Collegeville.

Local Instructor Observes Jubilee; Bishop Presides

The Rev. Gilbert F. Esser, professor of Latin and Greek at St. Joseph's since 1930, celebrated the silver anniversary of his ordination on July 4. Father Esser was celebrant of a Solemn High Mass of Thanksgiving in the College Chapel, with the Most Rev. John G. Bennett, Bishop of Lafayette, presiding on the throne. Assistants at the Mass were the Rev. Henry Friedel, a classmate of the jubilarian, and the Rev. Isidore Stadtherr, boyhood friend of Father Esser. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. Rufus Esser, brother of Father Gilbert.

A jubilee dinner was served to clerical and lay friends in the college cafeteria. The Rev. Edwin Kaiser served as toastmaster.

Parents Present

Present at the festivities were the parents of the jubilarian, of Cole Camp, Mo., a sister and her family, of Kansas City, Mo., a brother and his family, of Omaha, Nebr., and another sister, Sister M. Edmunda, C.P.P.S., a teacher in the parochial school, Versailles, Ohio.

In addition to his teaching duties at St. Joseph's, Father Esser is pastor of St. Henry's church, Medaryville, where he is at present engaged in supervising the building of a new church.

Father Esser served as army chaplain for five years in World War II, and saw action in England, France and Belgium.

Faculty Enlarged

Freshmen are not the only new faces on the campus. Seventeen priests and laymen have been added to the faculty, while six of last year's professors have been transferred to other fields.

Fathers Gaulrapp and Stukenborg have been assigned to St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, Ohio; Father Gaulrapp as an instructor and Father Stukenborg as procurator, a post he held here. Mr. Don Shea, history instructor at St. Joseph's last year, is also at Carthage, pursuing studies for the priesthood. Father Guillozet has been named pastor of St. Martin's parish, Hazen, No. Dak., and Father Staab, chaplain of Holy Cross Institute, Merrill, Wis. Mr. Edward Cummings is teaching English in Texas.

New members of the faculty include the Rev. Peter Brickner, who replaces Father Stukenborg as procurator, and the following lay instructors: Messrs. Louis Beauchemin, French; Joseph Druse, History; Charles Farrell, Business Administration; William McKiernan and George LaMountain, (Continued on Page Four)

Professors Emeriti

The Rev. Ildephonse Rapp (left) and the Rev. Sylvester Hartman (right) gave a combined total of 87 years to teaching before their retirement from active service this fall. Fr. Rapp came here in 1904; Fr. Hartman in 1907.

Welcome Frosh!

Welcome, welcome, to the hallowed halls of St. Joe College, you classes of '50, '51, '52, and '53. Also those who won't make it until '54 or '55.

But especially to those of '53. To you of the green beanie, the doubtful look, and the "Where's the chow hall?" expressions, the staff of Stuff extends a hearty greeting.

There are 197 candidates for frosh rookie president this year. That's plenty to go around, and we hope that the upper classmen don't get too greedy in their search for personal valets. One apiece should be plenty.

Frosh Are Willing Workers

Some of them are nice healthy specimens, too. We met two of these brawny ones at a very opportune time, last week. They graciously consented to carry our trunk, full of clothes, books, and old gold bars, to our room.

On examination, it developed that the two green-tops could talk, too. It was sort of guttural pidgin, but we gathered that they hailed from East St. Louis, Ill. When asked if they knew Ralph Clark, the renowned editor of the '48-'49 Stuff, they became positively loquacious. One of them came right out and said, "Yeah, he's engaged to my sister." Well, well!

Sophs Hosts To Newcomers

It seems that the sophomores are the most anxious to acquaint the new frosh with the time-honored customs involved in becoming a real college man. They claim they had such an exciting time last year that they feel fully obliged to show the class of '53 the same hospitality.

One in particular, who admits proposing to 43 Rensselaer girls during his first hectic month at Collegeville, is considering an especially unique tableau. He wants to get a group of two or three freshmen to don workmen's uniforms and sink an oil well from the lawn of the courthouse, downtown.

Stuff's Policy

In this, the first issue of Stuff for the school year of 1949-'50, it seems only meet and just that we, the editors, outline the aims and ends that we shall pursue in publishing this paper throughout the year.

First, we shall try to narrate all the news of the campus. We shall make Stuff a chronicle of all pertinent facts and data that we feel the student body will be interested in. This is to include not only campus happenings, but any event, of state-, nation-, or even world-wide scope, that might affect the inhabitants of Collegeville.

Then, we shall try to interpret the news in such a way that the reader will receive the Catholic viewpoint on these happenings. Father Davitt, our moderator, will read, and edit, if necessary, all copy before it appears in the paper.

Humor will be included in these sheets. Working on the principle that clean fun has yet to hurt anybody, we feel that a few laughs sprinkled through the 320 column inches of type we put out will be received in the right spirit.

These aims, of course, remain flexible. They depend on the reception that Stuff receives from you, the students, the readers that we try to reach, and the faculty, for since we are the voice of the student body, and therefore the voice of the college, we recognize the authority of the faculty.

So, in future editions, if these aims are changed, it will be only because we feel that the demands of our readers warrant that change.

.. ANNOUNCEMENTS ..

Applicants for admission to many of the law and medical schools throughout the country will be required to take special entrance examinations before their applications will be considered.

It should be noted that these tests are not universally required. Each candidate should inquire of his prospective school whether or not he is expected to take it.

Exam Dates Set

The Law School Admission Tests

may be taken on November 12, 1949, or February 25, April 29 or August 12, in 1950. These dates are all Saturdays.

The Medical College Admission Tests will be given Saturday, October 22, 1949, and Monday, January 16, 1950.

Application forms, a Bulletin of Information, and sample tests may be obtained from pre-medical or pre-law advisors, or direct from Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N.J.

Jobs Plentiful In Some Fields

Since the time, many years ago, when most college students developed the habit of eating at least three times a day, those students realized the need to do something after college, so as not to break the habit.

In line with this philosophy, Changing Times Magazine has put out an informative article, listing the most popular jobs and the opportunities of each. (Changing Times, Sept. 1949, "Where to Aim for the Best Jobs".)

Technical Fields Crowded

The engineering profession, by far the largest in the technical fields, is currently crowded, and almost a quarter of a million students are now training for jobs in that field. Chemists and architects will find their professions almost as crowded, too.

In comparison, however, the field of medicine is almost "wide open." Although medical schools are able to accept only one of every two students, there are and will be fine opportunities for qualified applicants. The armed forces, for example, are desperately in need of doctors. The field of physics, likewise, offers many opportunities in this atomic age, although advanced degrees are to be the criterion.

Teaching Jobs Plentiful

Those brave souls entering the ranks of teachers will find many jobs awaiting them with open arms. The only draw-back is the chronic one—low pay.

There are already too many young men in the law field for the openings available, and the profession is likely to become even more crowded in the next few years. Top-ranking students will find jobs without difficulty, but the average graduate will find increasingly tough competition.

In choosing any job or career, however, the student will be wise first to analyze his personal capabilities, find out what he has to offer an employer, then try for the job that offers the best chance, not the one that seems most dramatic or exciting.

Generous Townsfolk House G.I. Families

Married students at St. Joseph's may have the answer to one of their more pressing problems, according to a statement recently released by college authorities. The housing problem, long a bane to men who don't want their wives to be "college widows," is solved.

Mr. Dick Scheiber, public relations director for St. Joseph's, has arranged to place small families of college students in homes of Rensselaer residents on a "share the home basis."

Students on the G. I. Bill will find this situation especially good. For about $35.00 per month the family can get rooms with light, heat and cooking facilities.

Generous Townspeople

The townspeople of Rensselaer have generously offered their second floor rooms, or portions of their homes that they don't themselves use, to these college families.

This procedure was begun three years ago, when the first of the "ex-G.I." students with wives came to St. Joseph's. Since there are no facilities at Collegeville for families, Mr. Scheiber inquired among the townspeople for places to rent to keep these student families. The Rensselaer residents generously offered to give rooms to the students, and all of the first couples were placed.

50 Families Placed

Since that time, 50 student families have made homes in town on this basis. To date, only two complaints have been received from the parties involved. Most of the families have been very well pleased, and many life-long friendships have been started.

Joe Puma Returns to St. Joe's; Freshmen Head for the Hills

To the accompaniment of a myriad medley of honks, toots, whistles, moans, shouts of recognition and a general comparison of "The Girl I Left Behind," What a Queen! the part-time inhabitants of Collegeville returned for another season. Simultaneously, the peaceful summer community of Rensselaer became the nervous, hushed, expectant college town, most of the young women of which had been sent off to boarding school with instructions to return only at Christmas, Easter and next June.

Wedge in the center of this answer to a taxi driver's prayer were two examples of the Collegeville Kid—Joe Puma and his roommate buddy, Dave. Pipes clenched in teeth, hat-brims turned up, and struggling with three suitcases apiece, the duo left the Monon's St. Joe Special, and made a mad rush to a clear spot next to two local women.

"Here they come again," moaned one of these fair ladies. "Last year during initiation week, I was proposed to three times."

Joe Puma turned up his coat collar, pulled down his hat brim, and faced away from the females. "Yes, me too," commented her companion. "Look, here's a cab. Let's get it."

After a brief struggle with two juniors, they entered the cab and were driven off.

"Boy, did you see those two?" queried Dave. "That one on the left looked like the Irish washer-woman's English grandmother. I bet the guy that proposed to her felt like a fool."

"Yeah, he sure did," mumbled Joe, "and she looked worse then than she does now. C'mon, let's grab this cab."

On the way to Collegeville the two Rover Boys reminisced.

"Boy, those upper classmen were rough last year."

"Yeah, they really made it tough for us poor freshmen, especially during initiation week. Imagine, having to propose to every girl that walked down the street, especially those that just kept walking around the block. And even before initiation week we had to light cigarettes, shine shoes, and clean rooms for those guys. Bet I musta cleaned 12 rooms, and never had time to sweep out my own. Yeah, those guys started right away. I could never be that tough."

"Me neither. I'm gonna leave the frosh alone this year."

So it went until these two pillars of the community arrived at Pumaville, and they swore that they, at least, would be kind to freshmen. The cab stopped on the campus. The driver lifted out the six suitcases, accepted his fare, and pulled away to pick up more students at the depot. Joe and Dave bent to pick up their bags.

"Uuugh! What's in this thing? Gold bars?"

"Whew! Mine feels like it's bolted to the ground."

"Oh, brother! And we gotta go all the way to second floor of West."

"Boy, I sure wish we could get some help on this deal."

At this point, two freshmen, replete in green beanies, wandered across the scene, headed for the rec hall. Joe and Dave exchanged glances, and called out:

"Hey, frosh! C'mere. On the double! See these suitcases! Each of you grab three. They go up to the second deck of West Seifert."

"Whaddaya mean, you're busy?"

Grab those bags. Want me to make you rookie president?..."

College Host To Altar Boys

Servers' Day has become a tradition at St. Joseph's. This year, on June 28, 700 altar boys from 29 parishes in Northern Indiana convened on the campus for their summer outing and picnic. Softball games in an elimination series, swimming matches and foot races were the order of day. Awards were given to the parishes piling up the largest number of points in the competition, and to the individual boys who came out first, second and third.

The activities were well planned and executed by Fathers Fehrenbacher and Cera, with the assistance of the students of Xavier Hall.

Mexican Martyr Is Radio Topic

Sunday, September 11, marked the first of two addresses by Father Edwin G. Kaiser over FM station WFJL, Chicago. Father Kaiser's topic was "Our Lady, Queen of Wisdom."

The second address, on September 18, was a discussion of Maria de la Luz Comacho, who died as a result of wounds received in front of her parish church in Mexico City, Mexico. She was shot by Mexican Communists on December 30, 1934. Her cause is being forwarded as the first martyr to Communism.

ST. JOE BOWS TO LOUISVILLE, 33-7

Coach Demonstrates

Capt. Al Miesch and Coach Dick Scharf discuss plays to be used in the 1949 gridiron campaign. This is Scharf's fourth year as Puma football mentor.

Pumas Face Stiff Schedule With 44 Men - 20 Veterans

With a 44-man squad, including 20 veterans, St. Joe's Pumas face the toughest football schedule in four years. After decisive wins over Ball State (33-0), Indiana State (7-0), and St. Norbert (13-7), the three most highly touted opponents last year, St. Joe gained the reputation of a spotty, on-and-off-team, since they dropped five games to less powerful opposition. This year, able to put two full teams of lettermen, except for tackles, on the field, the Pumas are pointed to as the team to beat.

The Cardinal and Purple line-men average 195 pounds, while the backfield scales an average 175. Practice sessions indicate that they rely on speed more than brawn for ground gaining. The T formation, an old favorite of Coach Dick Scharf, will be used most extensively.

Last Saturday's game with the University of Louisville opened the 1949 season for the Pumas. Next Saturday, Ball State will be out to avenge the 33-0 defeat they suffered at the hands of the Pumas last year.

Team positions stand as follows: ENDS—Don Quinn, East Chicago, and Roy Stone, Evansville, are two-year lettermen, while Pat Gavin, Gary, and Chicago's Ron Miniat each earned a monogram last year.

TACKLES—Don Ronan and Joe Brosnahan, both of Chicago, are lettermen. Bert King, Louisville, Ky., and Mike Kacmar, Gary, are two sophs who back up these men. GUARDS—Capt. Al Miesch, Hammond, Tom Tysall, Gary, Don Dippel, Evansville, have won two letters apiece. Ed Cobett, Canton, Ohio soph, earned his first one last year, and it looks like Jim Noll, Ft. Wayne, will get his in '49.

CENTER—Bud Greif, Evansville senior, and Al Murphy, Chicago, make for a strong position here. Both have letters.

LEFT HALF—Cliff Beaver, Rensselaer, is looking for his third varsity letter, and Louisville's Ernie Bidwell for his second.

RIGHT HALF—Wally Moore, South Bend, and Bob Lamkin, Chicago, both veterans, are good for plenty of speed.

FULLBACK—John Frawley, Chicago, a great ground-gainer, last year, will be backed up by Jerry Fleck, Burbank, Calif., and Norb Hummell, Louisville, Ky., both likely sophomores.

QUARTERBACK—Veteran Tom Quinn, St. Joe's pass-slinging specialist, is back in the fight after a shoulder injury put him out for the greater part of last year. This position is ably backed up by Jim Causland, Chicago, and Don Schubert, Evansville.

Ball State Cards Look for Revenge Against Pumas

Next Saturday the Pumas' journey to Ball State's gridiron at Muncie will mark the fifth game between the Collegeville eleven and the Ball State Cardinals. Four previous tilts add up to one win for each team, and two tie games.

In 1938 the first of these games ended in a 13-13 tie. In 1939 Ball State eked out a 6-0 win over the Cardinal and Purple. No games were scheduled in 1940 and 1941, and when World War II began, St. Joe dropped football until the end of the fighting. The third game in the series was played in 1947 with a 6-6 tie score.

1948 Upset
In 1948 the Muncie team was considered a "powerhouse." They looked forward to their best season since the war, and St. Joe was pointed to as one of the teams that would fall in making that record. Sept. 25, the day of the tilt, however, proved an entirely different story.

The Cardinals failed to get inside the Puma 10-yard stripe, while the Pumas scored five times, the game ending with St. Joe on the heavy end of a 33-0 score. John Frawley, who will be in at fullback for the Pumas, next weekend, made three of the tallies.

That game went down as one of the biggest of local upsets. St. Joe was the underdog; Ball State the highly-touted superior team. That was in 1948.

Same Squad
Next Saturday St. Joe will have almost the same team that rolled over the Cardinals in that upset. Ball State, however, is still rated a mighty team, one over which a victory will be difficult. But the strength of that team will be thoroughly tested. If the Pumas can outfight the Cardinals, they will not only balance the record book in their favor, but prove themselves a team to be reckoned with for the remainder of the season.

Three Home Games On 1949 Agenda

The St. Joe Pumas this year face the toughest schedule in four years. Only three of the nine games on the list are to be played at Collegeville. The schedule is as follows:

- Sept. 17—At Louisville U. (night)
- Sept. 24—Ball State at Muncie, Ind.
- Oct. 1—EASTERN ILLINOIS (night).*
- Oct. 8—VALPARAISO (Homecoming).*
- Oct. 16—LORAS (Dad's Day).*
- Oct. 23—St. Ambrose at Davenport, Ia.
- Oct. 29—St. Norbert at DePere, Wis. (night).
- Nov. 5—Indiana State at Terre Haute, Ind.
- Nov. 11—Canterbury at Kokomo, Ind. (night).*

* Games listed in caps are home games.

Chitown Bears Use Local Grid

Two Chicago football teams used the Puma campus this summer as a training camp. One was the well-known professional team, the Chicago Bears, which arrived on August 3 for their sixth consecutive summer of training here. The other was the less well-known team of Holy Trinity High School, which trained for one week at Pumaville, beginning August 22.

The Bears, who recently went back to their Chicago lair, followed a rugged training schedule, beginning at seven o'clock each morning and including not only two daily scrimmage sessions, but also two regularly scheduled sessions of injury treatments. They expect each other to play rough.

Another interesting feature of the Bears' training is the Fat Men's Table at meals. Any Bear who tends to an over amount of chubbiness must eat at a special table, where he will get only 1200 calories a day, instead of the 3200 his slimmer brothers get. This treatment continues until he is down to a slim, slinky, 200 pounds or so.

Beaver Scores Single Marker; Locals Get Edge in Statistics

Although outscored in number of first downs and yards gained by passing, the University of Louisville made good use of a powerful line and heavy galloping offense to rack up a 33-7 score against the Pumas last Saturday night in the first St. Joe tilt of the season.

Frosh Stars Out In Class Games

The annual frosh softball tourney got underway Wednesday, Sept. 14, after a one-day postponement due to wet grounds. The games got off to a quick start with a flurry of runs for all squads, and ended with Team 3, sponsored by Father Schmock, on the long end of the final score. Except for bunched errors, the games were played in pro fashion.

The outstanding play of the tourney was made in the semi-final games between Team 1 and Team 3. With men on first and second, a triple play was executed by Team 3 when shortstop Hospodka caught a line drive and relayed it to second baseman Morrissey who sent it to first baseman Molskow, to retire the side.

O'Hara Shines
The final tilt was highlighted by the superb pitching of Gene O'Hara of Team 3 and the terrific support of the entire squad.

The first quarter of the game went scoreless, with the ball in St. Joe's possession most of the time. On the first play of the second period, however, the Cardinals' Trabue jolted his way nine yards for the first score.

Brosnahan Recovers
St. Joe retaliated when tackle Joe Brosnahan recovered a Cardinal fumble on Louisville's 36-yard line. Two plays failed to make any ground. On the third, Cliff Beaver recovered a bad pass from center and scooted around left end for the only Puma marker of the game. Tom Quinn booted the extra point. The first half seemed destined to end in a deadlock, neither team scoring, until finally Louisville's Lucia gathered in a punt on his own 13 and sailed all the way for the Card's second tally and the second longest run of the game.

Puma Passes Click
In the third quarter, St. Joe's pass offense started clicking and a series of plays brought the ball to the Card 35 before it was lost on downs. In three long runs, the Louisville powerhouse brought in another score.

The longest run of the night was set up after another St. Joe drive deep into Cardinal territory was ended when Nunn intercepted a Quinn pass on the 20, and ran it to the 32. A holding penalty set the Cards back on their own 12. Lucia took the ball, and circled right end and galloped 88 yards for the tally.

Cards Final Score
The final score came late in the last quarter when Mitchem took the ball on the Puma 39 and scampered all the way.

Although they made only four first downs, the Cards stacked up 271 yards rushing, depending on the long runs by Lucia and Trabue. With 16 first downs, the Pumas made only 140 yards rushing, even though they controlled the ball for a full two-thirds of the game.

N.C.B.C. & E. In 3-Day Meet

Bishops, priests, sisters, religious superiors and building officials from all parts of the country were in attendance at the 1949 National Catholic Building Convention and Exposition, held in Chicago's Hotel Stevens, June 14, 15 and 16. For the past two years the Convention and Exposition has been sponsored by St. Joseph's.

"Functional Design, Key to Economy and Utility in Catholic Architecture," "What the Catholic Administrator Should Know about Building Materials," and "How to Work with a Building Contractor for Greatest Economy," were among the topics discussed during the three-day convention. Delegates heard such noted authorities as Mr. H. M. Lawrence, chief engineer of the American Standards Association, of New York City, Mr. Thomas Locraft, assistant professor of Architectural Design at Catholic University, Washington, D. C., and Mr. H. E. Foreman, managing director of the Associated General Contractors of America, Inc.

Bishops Preside

The Most Rev. John G. Bennett, Bishop of Lafayette, the Most Rev. John P. Cody, Auxiliary Bishop of St. Louis, and the Very Rev. Alfred J. Zanolari, C.P.P.S., president of St. Joseph's and of the Convention and Exposition, presided over the sessions.

His Eminence, Samuel Cardinal Stritch, of Chicago, honorary chairman of the Convention and Exposition, was celebrant of a Pontifical Low Mass in Old St. Mary's church, attended by priests and sisters, on the closing day of the sessions. His Eminence, likewise, conferred the awards upon the winners in the architectural competition, sponsored by the Convention, at the final session of delegates.

Seven Men Wed During Summer

Seven students, resident on the campus last year, were married during the summer holidays and are now living with the wives at homes in Rensselaer.

Maurice Hamilton and Rosemary Bresnahan were married at Struthers, Ohio, June 14. At North Vernon, Ind., on June 12 Bob Eder married Betty More. Roy Stone was wed to Dorothy Henning, at Evansville, June 25.

On July 30 in South Bend Miss Margaret Clemens became the bride of Wally Moore. Tom Quinn married Miss Dorothy Summers in Gary on Aug. 13. Five days later on Aug. 18 Joe Kolodziej led Miss Norma Michael to the altar in St. Augustine's church, Rensselaer.

In Chicago, on Sept. 10, Miss Marilyn Donne became the bride of Landon Myers. Mrs. Myers is now secretary in the Dean's Office.

STUFF extend heartiest congratulations and best wishes for a happy wedded life.

Marin, Econ Prof, Becomes Father

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Marin are the proud parents of their first child—a boy, Mark Christopher—born at St. Mary's Hospital, Grand Rapids, Mich., on Sunday, Aug. 7. The father has been Instructor in Economics at St. Joseph's since last fall. STUFF offers hearty congratulations!

Transferred

The Rev. Robert Stukenborg has been assigned to the office of procurator at St. Charles Seminary, Carthagen, Ohio, after two years at St. Joseph's.

Rules Relaxed For Older Men

The Junior and Senior students at St. Joe are to have more privileges in the way of time schedules, a recent interview with Father Joseph Sheeran revealed. Allowing much more freedom and adding extra responsibilities to the upper classmen, these new rules are to go into effect immediately.

The lower classmen, (i.e. freshmen and sophomores,) will remain under the old rules, as shown in the Student Handbook.

New Regulations

The new rulings, which were agreed upon in a meeting of prospective upper classmen and the dean of students on June 2, 1949, are as follows:

- 1—Drexel Hall and Noll Hall are to be reserved exclusively for Juniors and Seniors.
 - 2—There will be no regular checks in these halls.
 - 3—The lights in these halls will not be turned out by a master switch.
 - 4—Upper classmen must be in their rooms by midnight, and must turn out the lights in their rooms by midnight.
 - 5—Upper classmen shall have unrestricted use of their automobiles.
 - 6—There will be a student committee set up in each of these halls to aid in the maintenance of discipline.
- The upper classmen are cautioned that the continuance of these privileges depends entirely on themselves.

Campus Buildings Renovated; St. Joseph's Has "New Look"

Alma Mater had her face lifted during the summer. Long known for its beautiful campus, St. Joseph's had several of her man-made structures redecorated during July and August. The part that God made seems to have gotten along all right and needed little retouching.

Noll Hall, residence hall for upper classmen, was repainted throughout in a pale powder blue shade that should delight the men who purchased orange curtains last year. Science Hall also was given the new look, consisting not only of a complete paint job, but a thorough renovation which leaves last year's men slightly confused as to where they should sleep. Gaspar Hall too got its share of attention by way of paint and varnish. The result: a very inviting home for a small group of freshmen.

Returning students' first glimpse of the campus revealed a redecorated field house. The exterior now boasts of a coat of gray paint, with white window and pillar trimmings.

The north wing of the Administration Building, first and second floors, was completely renovated. The first floor houses the Faculty Recreation Room; the second floor, the living quarters of eight priests.

The culinary department came in for its share of refurbishing. A deep freeze unit has been installed. Bakery and laborers' dining room are in new quarters. And what some are acclaiming as the greatest thing since the coming of the horseless carriage is the new dining room for lay professors and visitors.

On the west side of the kitchen a new receiving platform has been constructed in cement. This will facilitate the unloading of food and other necessities that keep the college going.

Miss Skinner, our dietician, who daily finds her way into the hearts of more than 500 young men, via the well-known and popular route, can now enter her apartment by way of a very attractive outside entrance.

After all these improvements had been made, there remained only one more thing to do, and this was promptly done. Eight very attractive altars were placed in the nave of the chapel, making a total of 20, to better enable St. Joseph's to thank God for His generosity.

All in all, Father Otte and his cohorts, the Xavier students, have had a busy summer. The painting was done under the supervision of the Niekamp Brothers, of Coldwater, Ohio, and Mr. Frank Esser, of Cole Camp, Mo.

Campus Is Scene Of Three Retreats

Three retreats were held on the campus during the summer months, one each month. The Rev. Charles G. Herzog, S.J., of Philadelphia, Pa., was retreat master for 95 Fathers of the Precious Blood in spiritual exercises held from July 11 to 15.

Members of Alcoholics Anonymous attended two retreats, one held June 17-19, the other, Aug. 26-28. Approximately 125 men were at each retreat.

Sunday, June 19, was Eucharistic Family Day at Collegeville. The event is sponsored by the Holy Name Society of the Diocese of Lafayette. In the absence of the Most Rev. John G. Bennett, Bishop of Lafayette, who was in Rome for his "ad limina" visit to the Tomb of the Apostles, the Rt. Rev. Aloysius Copenolle, dean, was in charge of the day's proceedings and was celebrant of the Solemn High Mass, with which the day's festivities began.
